Pastoral Letter

November, 2008

Dear Friends,

*'Where your treasure is,
there will your heart be also'*

(Matt 6.21).

Just as our national press began to sense another story in the problems of an American bishop, the story sank without trace in the endless blanket coverage of bank crises, stock market falls, and governments in panic over their faltering economies.

Treasure (circulation) to be grown through gossip, suddenly recognised as the cash in all our pockets. Day after day the news programmes and the newspapers filled up with coverage and analysis, forecasts and foreboding. Few items other than the odd murder or sensational trial seemed to get into the main news or comment slots. In the process it would have been difficult to find a small paragraph recording emerging persecution of Christians by Hindus in India (not previously thought to be a problem) or the very serious persecution of Christians in Iraq following the fall of Saddam Hussain. These Christian communities were of extremely long standing, claiming in some cases continuity from the travels of St. Thomas after the resurrection of Jesus. If Donald had not written to us of difficulties in his homeland, I doubt if we would have read of the situation in our newspapers.

Reflecting on all this I note that far from simply blaming bankers for irresponsibility, some commentators point out that the public in general must take a share of the blame for their desire for more and more, building up debts to a dangerous level. Have we all become so absorbed with acquisition and status, that our thoughts and minds have been diverted from greater values? The world may be a global village, but we may be in danger of not fully supporting the world wide Christian fellowship when confronted with more immediately sensational news all the time.

Our true treasure is a Gospel of unconditional love and a sense of belonging to a timeless and boundless fellowship - the 'communion of saints' (see Hebrews 12.22). If we remember this perspective, when confronted with sensational news and the mass hysterical reaction that we have seen accompanying it, we can go along with Isaiah's words 'In quietness and confidence (trust) shall be your strength.' (Isaiah 30.15)

Yours in Christ,

Fraser.

Drumchapel News

Well we have settled into our new LIFE with the Partnership and everything seems to be working OK.

Our new Ecumenical team is now in place and includes Eildon Dyer, team leader, Marie Cooke, youth worker and Sheila Ramsay, community development worker. The three girls have been working hard getting to know Drumchapel, finding out what's going on and introducing themselves to the local community groups and churches. Marie has been visiting the local schools, going into the classrooms and speaking to the children, building relationships with them and the teachers. They have a few plans for setting up some new projects, which I'll hopefully be able to tell you about in the next magazine.

Meanwhile, our Diocese has donated £1,500 to the ecumenical team to help them set up with computers and office equipment. We are very grateful to the Diocese for this very generous contribution as it is already supporting Drumchapel in a big way by committing to pay a half salary for five years towards the ecumenical team. We truly are blessed with gifts.

It was with great sadness we heard of the death of Michael Hayes from St. Andrew's Milngavie. Michael took a great interest in what we were doing in Drumchapel and many a long conversation I had with him, putting the world to right, every year when he delivered our offertory envelopes. He had a great sense of humour and even with all his own personal tragedies, he was always so cheery. I, for one, will miss him. Rest in peace, Michael.

God Bless

Jean Kerr

PS I am now on e-mail (forced by the family) my address is:

jean02.kerr@mypostoffice.com.uk

I hope Robert receives this ok in time!

Message from Peter and Joan Kemp

A huge 'thank you' to all our kind friends at All Saints, who gave us such a wonderful farewell. We were very touched by your warmth and generosity.

We have had a tremendous 21 years as members of All Saints. The church really has been our extended family and we have greatly appreciated the friendship we have shared with so many people in so many different ways. I hope that we have grown spiritually during this period and certainly our church has moved forward and changed over the past years. Over the last three or four years in particular, we have felt a renewed spirituality and direction, which can only be for the good.

Please come and see us in Oban, where we have started to attend St John's Cathedral. We may not be totally organised until the extension is built, but we will always be happy to see friends.

So thank you all again, and God Bless!

Peter and Joan

Preparation for All Saints AGM: Thursday, 27th November.

Vestry membership.

As Maureen Vaughn will this autumn complete her three years' vestry service, we extend our warmest gratitude to her for her dedication and hard work. With Maureen's departure and another vacancy imminent, new members of the Vestry will be needed. Any seconded nominations should be handed to Mairi Ross by November 13th.

Annual reports from Church groups.

It would be appreciated if those responsible could submit their reports to Mairi Ross as soon as possible.

Christingle Service

The All Saints' Christingle Service will be on Sunday 30th November at 6.00 pm. As usual there will be a collection of gifts, brought by the children, at the service. These will go to the children supported by the Glasgow Children's Holiday Scheme - ages appear to be 7 -15, but there are many younger siblings as well. On the two Sundays before the service there will be a box at the back of the Church to collect gifts for the older teenage siblings of the children and their parents; many are single parents, including some dads. Toiletries, warm gloves, scarves etc are always acceptable, as well as biscuits and sweets for the families.

It is always helpful if a small detachable label can be attached to the parcel indicating boy or girl and approximate age, as great care goes into the distribution of the gifts.

This support of the Glasgow Children's Holiday Scheme is always very much appreciated.

Thank you

St Andrew's Coffee Morning Saturday 15 November.

The annual plea for 'All Hands on Deck'. Please will you take on again the duties of your usual roles:

- Those in the kitchen
- Those serving the coffee
- Those manning the stalls
- Those selling tickets

In addition to our usual well-oiled 'performance' we are hoping to have a display of art in the quiet room so this too will have to be manned - volunteers please.

Donations of home baking, food/beverages for the raffle and of course books and bric-a-brac for the stalls are needed and will be warmly welcomed. On the previous Friday evening, after the dance class, the hall and quiet room will be set up. Again if you are around it would be great to have your help.

Looking forward to another fun day

See you then

Freda.

GLASGOW & GALLOWAY DIOCESAN NEWS

November 2008, Issue 80

We believe that Jesus died and rose again and so we believe that God will bring with Jesus those who have fallen asleep in him. - 1 Thes 4.14 (NIV)

Questions in the silence

Canon ROBIN PAISLEY, Rector, St John's Dumfries writes . . .

ON the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month in 1918, the Armistice that halted the fighting on the Western Front signalled the end of the First World War. This year, at the same hour of the same month but 90 years later, two minutes of silence will be widely observed so that we remember the terrible effects of war and those who died.

Some years ago there was concern that people were beginning to forget the sacrifices made by servicemen and women on their behalf. With the passage of time veterans from the First World War are extremely few and even the youngest of those who fought in the Second World War are now in their 80s (depending on how truthful they were about their age).

Through the enduring work of bodies like the Royal British Legion, the needs of those damaged by war have been kept before us and in recent years the two-minute silence has been re-established not only on Remembrance

Sunday but on the 11th itself. Has this renewed emphasis helped in the resolve to avoid the dire consequences of war of all kinds— not only the current more localised wars in which people are persecuted for their ethnicity, lawlessness becomes the norm, families are destroyed and the whole globe is affected by attempts to mediate?

Is the current economic crisis, as some commentators think, a form of war triggered by the same forces that unleashed the 9/11 attacks in 2001, or is it a consequence of sinful greed and the inevitable judgement? Or to put it another way, do we remember and learn from the lessons of the past and not only the World Wars of the 20th Century but also the revelation of God in scripture?

Interestingly the three-year cycle of Bible readings which come up at Remembrance-tide in our church calendar includes ones which are strikingly relevant. From almost 3,000 years ago there are oracles from the prophet Haggai (2.8) dealing with economic woes, the consequences of exile and the task of rebuilding the symbols of nationhood. From almost 2,000 years ago the apostle Paul (2 Thes 2) speaks to confused and disheartened people who are experiencing persecution and affliction; and Jesus speaks about life after death (Luke 20).

I am constantly struck by the way Bible stories speak to our present day situation and it was interesting to note that church attendance increased in on the Sunday following 11 September 2001. I wonder if it will do so again now in the face of an economic form of disaster? While I clearly have a vested interest, I hope it will.

There are complex issues before us in our world just now. There is much in Christian tradition which can help us deal with them. Let us witness to it!

Sharing experience – sharing concern

THE National Commission for Pastoral and Social Care hosted a conference entitled Sharing Experience – Sharing Concern in Perth last month. ANN GLENESK reports.

The interfaith, ecumenically led conference aimed to raise awareness of violence against women and, in particular, to consider how domestic violence affects children. One woman dies every three days in Britain as a result of domestic violence. For every woman who is killed or violated, the children who witness or hear the violence are also violated. Perpetrators of violence steal control and disempower rather than lose control. Unlike arguments where both partners engage, women are reduced to spectators in arguments where domestic violence exists.

Children often hear or witness the abuse of their mother and they, like their mothers, feel there is no-one with whom they can share this trauma. The violence ensnares them. Delegates were encouraged to find out what was happening in their own areas to help all who are subjected to violence. The International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women is 25 November.

Bishop's Staff Group 2007–08 report

Diocesan Secretary GIB FITZGIBBON writes:

UNDER the diocesan constitution, the Bishop's Staff Group is responsible to the Diocesan Council for the day-to-day management of the diocese and its resources. It accounts for its actions and decisions at each Council meeting. In addition it reports after each meeting to each Region, Diocesan Council member, and - through Diocesan News Service (DNS) - to the diocese.

It currently consists of the Bishop, the Dean, the Provost, the Synod Clerk (as one of the diocesan trustees), the Diocesan Treasurer and the Diocesan Secretary.

Over the past year the Staff Group has been dealing with, among many other issues, the following matters:

- Vacancies at: South Ayrshire, King's Park, Lenzie, Cambuslang & Uddingston, Cumbernauld, Clarkston, Hillington, Largs, Bearsden & Milngavie, Hyndland, and East End.
- Support for: the Drumchapel Partnership; projects at St Silas', Holy Trinity & St Barnabas, St Mungo's Alexandria, St Mary's Hamilton; and Gothenburg Diocesan Partnership.
- Appointment of the Diocesan Ministry Development Officer, DNS Editor, Conveners for MAG and Youth Networks.
- Monitoring Child Protection compliance, management accounts and the work of the Property Committee.
- Dissolution of St George's Maryhill, and St Columba's Clydebank.
- Arrangements for Diocesan Synod, Diocesan Council meetings, pre-Lambeth hospitality, a Clergy Synod, and consultations on the draft Anglican Covenant.
- Emergency help where needed in the diocese.

The Staff Group is responsible for the operation of the Diocesan Centre under the management of Mrs Jean Graham, the office manager.

Telling and being the Good News

Mothers' Union diocesan president ENID SCOBIE looks back over a busy 12 months...

MOTHERS' Union has opened new branches in the past year: St Cyprian's Lenzie and Heart for the City, whose members come from 14 different countries mainly in Africa. The Lenzie branch is busy planning its MU banner which will be dedicated at the Festival Service in St Cyprian's on Saturday 23 May at 11.30am. Worldwide president Rosemary Kempzell will preach and the Primus, together with MU chaplain Revd Scott Robertson, will officiate. The choir from Heart for the City will sing African hymns. Guests will include representatives from our Link dioceses. All are welcome to the service and lunch.

Two Lady Day services are held, one in the north of the diocese, and one in south. The result has been a doubling in attendance. The annual Festival Service was held in St. Mary's Cathedral on Saturday, 17 May, when the choir from Heart for the City provided a joyful note with their vibrant singing. The MU chaplain officiated and Revd Dr Geoff Scobie preached on our theme for 2008, Time for Relationships.

Keeping members up to date with the work of the MU overseas and at home is a key task.

OVERSEAS

Overseas Days in Largs and Castle Douglas were arranged for October.

An African lunch was so successful the recipe will be repeated in members' churches and homes around the diocese! The programme was wide-ranging, including how the Overseas Fund was managed centrally and the way the Relief Fund responded immediately to disasters.

An innovation is the Family Life Programme in Uganda, currently operating in eight dioceses.

The aim is to empower community groups (women, men, youth) to tackle problems they identify in their communities. Training in a variety of areas (HIV/AIDS, parenting, environmental protection and management, micro-enterprise development) is provided by MU Facilitators. Trainers then return to their communities and set up model homes. These model homes provide practical examples of hygiene (with new latrines and washing facilities), vegetable gardens (improving soil, storing excess crops) and energy-efficient stoves.

Funding is raised through self-saving schemes so that chickens, goats, seed etc.

can be bought by the group. Approximately 8,750 people are part of the family life groups with a further 91,000 people being helped indirectly.

One husband commented: “There used to be a huge problem with domestic violence. Husbands didn’t have respect for their wives. Now they discuss issues with them and also their children. They even encourage women to talk freely in the community.” (Jackson, male group member, Sebei).

DIOCESAN PROJECTS

It is great fun to have a stall at Freshers Week in Glasgow University.

The students can buy our recipe book, enjoy the home baking on offer and hear about the work of MU. This is our fourth year there. Now students are telling us how useful they have found the book and recommending it those hesitant to spend 40p!

ANGEL POCKETS

One person’s dream of providing angel pockets and baby garments for premature and babies born asleep came to fruition this year. The Princess Royal and the Queen Mothers now gratefully receive these items. For one bereaved mother the little angel pocket allowed her to bury her tiny son with dignity.

PUBLICATIONS

There are two new publications. Families First, with a new format, replaces the Home and Family magazine and will have a supplement, Families Worldwide, three times a year. Well worth a look.

Members in the diocese have contributed to a book of prayers – In the Palm of God’s Hand (£4.50 plus p&p). For ordering details e-mail enid.scobie@ntlworld.com.

The MU website has a wealth of information: themothersunion.org.

The Union is encouraged and supported by many clergy in the diocese and this is a great strength and blessing. The MU is the mission arm of the church. A branch meeting provides an ideal opportunity to invite non-church people to a non-threatening and welcoming Christian fellowship. Church can be daunting for the uninitiated!

I hope that those churches who do not yet have an MU branch will consider sounding us out; we have much to offer for men and women!

Together, we can ‘tell the Good News’ and ‘be the Good News’.

Holy City looks at discipleship

WHAT’S the difference between a disciple and an admirer?

Holy City’s new programme of monthly worship and workshop events, Subways, poses this question as part of a series on the demands, delights and dilemmas of discipleship today. Glasgow-based Holy City is enabled by the Iona Community's Wild Goose Resource Group with 'a motley crew of Glaswegian citizens'. Each event looks at one aspect of the vocation of discipleship. What does it mean to 'follow'? Is there a cost? How does lifestyle reflect faith? Is discipleship a private or public matter? How is it related to culture and politics? Do we need to know exactly what we believe? Do actions speak louder than words? What does it mean to be a 'light for the world'? Do we need to change?

There are also parallel events.

LTQ Expo is for folk interested in using the Living The Questions faith exploration programme.

And Holy City DIY Centre is for those interested in running a Holy City-style event in their own locale.

From October, Subways takes place on the last Sunday of the month (second-last in December) 7-10pm, at Renfield St Stephen's, Bath Street, Glasgow.

Visit holycity-glasgow.co.uk or call 0141-332 6343.

Editors day

CHURCH magazine editors from all over the diocese gathered last month to hone their skills and pool experience. The Editors Day, arranged by the Information and Communication Action Network, was hosted at St Margaret's Newlands, with presentations from journalists and seasoned church magazine editors.

A session on privacy and protection of children and vulnerable adults proved among the best-received of the day. But at least as important as the curriculum was the opportunity for 22 editors to meet, share ideas, and take home a bundle of resources including one another's magazines.

Music at Newlands

ST Margaret's Second Sunday concerts continue on 9 November at 3.30pm, when the Fejes Quartet perform Mozart's String Quartet in D minor. They will be joined by RSNO colleagues for Prokofiev's Quintet in G minor. Tickets are £5 (£3 concessions, under-16s free).

St Margaret's Church centenary concert

Saturday 22 November, 7.30pm

353 Kilmarnock Road, Glasgow

Glasgow Chamber Choir, conducted by Michael Bawtree, present music by Heinrich Schutz, Johannes Brahms and Hans Gal. Tickets are £10 (£6 concessions) on the door. For more information visit:

www.glasgowchamberchoir.org.uk

Building young esteem

BEAUTY for Ashes is a Scripture Union conference for those who want to help young people grow in confidence in God's love for them.

It starts with how a child's identity and self worth are formed, and how they can be damaged. Seminars then explore topics such as building Biblical self esteem; mentoring those at risk of exclusion; self-harm; and working with children from families with drug or alcohol problems.

Seminar leaders include John Hayward and Kathryn Copsey. Dates are 7 February in Glasgow; and 21 February in Dundee. Limited places. Contact jenny.abbott@suscotland.org.uk.

News and events in brief . . .

THE 40th anniversary of Bishop Idris's ordination as a priest, and 10th anniversary of his consecration as a bishop will be celebrated by a special service of Choral Evensong at St Mary's Cathedral, Glasgow, on Sunday 23 November at 6.30pm.

THE Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr Rowan Williams, visits Glasgow University for a question-and-answer session with Professor Mona Siddiqui on Wednesday 29 October, 5.30pm. The event is free and open to the public. If you wish to attend, register with C.Laidlaw@admin.gla.ac.uk or call 0141 330 4978.

KIRKCUDBRIGHT churches all joined in worship for Harvest Festival at the Church of Scotland this year.

Members of the local congregations have shared harvest lunch together for several years, but this was a new step forward. The Revd Douglas Irving led the service and the preacher was Revd Roger Cutler, of Greyfriars Episcopal Church. Proceeds of £288 from this year's lunch donations were sent to Food for the Hungry, working in Bangladesh.

ANGELUS Singers, who help out with Evensong in churches with small choirs, now have a weblog: angelussingers.wordpress.com.

THE proposed November Diocesan Conference on the Anglican Covenant attracted too few expressions of interest to warrant a full-scale conference. A smaller event will be arranged on a different date. Those who expressed interest will be contacted to find a suitable date and venue.

NOVEMBER events to celebrate the centenary of St Margaret's Church building at Newlands include Festal Eucharist with the Bishop on St Margaret's Day, Sunday, 16 November. The Dean will join the congregation for Festal Evensong at 6.30 pm that evening. The City of Glasgow Council is giving the church a civic dinner on Monday 17 November.

IN Troon, St Ninian's Christmas Fayre takes place in the church hall, Bentinck Drive, on Saturday 6 December, 10.30am-1pm, with stalls, Santa's grotto, coffee and home baking.

There will be an ecumenical Advent carol service on Sunday 7 December at St Ninian's at 6pm in aid of the Scottish Bible Society.

CLERICAL shirts made from 100% Fairtrade certified cotton are now available. Visit fairtradeclergyshirts.co.uk.

OXFAM'S Head of Research, Duncan Green, delivers a lecture on From Poverty to Power at Gannochy Room, Wolfson Medical School Building, University of Glasgow, 5.30pm, Wednesday 29 October. Contact m.mast@admin.gla.ac.uk if you plan to attend.

THE Newton Mearns Wednesday Quilters hold a Crafts and Coffee fundraiser in aid of Alzheimer Scotland at St Margaret's Newlands on Saturday 8 November, 10.30am–2.30pm.

A TIME to Remember is special service at St Margaret's Newlands to give thanks for the lives of loved ones on Saturday 1 November, All Saints Day, at 3pm. Refreshments will be provided afterwards.

NEXT year's Ministry Celebration service takes place in St John's Dumfries on Saturday 30 May.

To encourage as many as possible of those involved in licensed and authorised ministry and their supporters to attend, the service will start at 1.15pm.

Dependent on rail timetables, it is hoped to provide light snacks and drinks from noon.

Next issue . . .

ITEMS for the December/January issue may be submitted by Monday 17 November in prose text (not as leaflets or PDFs, please) to editor Susi Cormack Brown: dns@episcopalglasgow.co.uk, or c/o the Diocesan Centre, 5 St Vincent Place, Glasgow G1 2DH.

Diocesan News Service is published 10 times per year by the Scottish Episcopal Church, United Diocese of Glasgow and Galloway. The views expressed are not necessarily those of the editor or the Diocesan Information & Communication Network.
